The journey so far.

The year was 2003, Facebook was yet to be launched and Twitter was not even conceived, a group of Chaturvedi community members decided to have a platform which is modern in its approach and traditional in content. The challenge was to match the growing aspirations of the community which was future ready. On 29 December 2003 the domain was registered which reflected both modernity and tradition. Initially it was focused at just providing contact details of Chaturvedi members. Gradually many more features were added like Searchable directory, personal page for each member with brief biography, cultural heritage of the community in audio visual form. The site was liked immensely by the members and viewership hits soon reached in lakhs.

The idea behind this initiative was further advanced by organising a hugely successful cultural program by community members in 2013 and 2015. Various talents in the field of art and culture were felicitated. To make our ancient scriptures reach every community household, free distribution of audio CDs containing all 4 Vedas was done in Delhi.

In 2016 a new version of the web site is launched with the aim of increasing people to people contact among community members through secured login and facility for one to one messaging among members.

Preface

This compilation of information on Doctors in our Chaturvedi community is a small effort to bring together the best in academics, science and technology, civil and armed service among ourselves for the benefit of Chaturvedi community. We are the torch bearers of knowledge based society from ancient times and have carried the tradition till date.

The thought behind this effort is to create an information pool about experts in the fields of medical science, to honour their achievements who are standing tall in these times of unfair competition and the let the society enjoy the fruits of the knowledge of these eminent doctors for the benefit of all.

This compilation is to create a sense of reassurance for the society in the hour of need. They can reach out to someone with confidence whenever the community members want a professional advice or service.

We hope to enrich this data in years to come and disseminate it to all the Chaturvedi community through various means at our command from cyber to print to telephony.

We hope you would find this effort worthwhile and benefit from it for a long time.

Sudhir K Chaturvedi
